Who may vote

Voting rights belong to members, owners of a flat or house and tenants, as shown on the final voter list. Each vote counts as one. Attending does not by itself give a right to vote.

How the vote is taken

All voting is a secret ballot: paper and online combined: the voter votes on the mobile, prints the ballot and puts it in the box. The list of who has voted is kept apart from the marked ballots, so no paper can show what any voter chose.

Quorum and majority

Quorum	33% of the members who can vote, counted by physical and online attendance. That is 4 of 11 in this sample.
If the quorum is short	The election is postponed and called again on NaN undefined NaN.
How a post is won	The candidate with the most votes is elected. A tie is settled by the Returning Officer.
